"Have you a warrant for me, Mr. Sheriff," said a man who called at the county jail Sunday morning. "What's your name?" Sheriff Rogers asked and the visitor replied that he was known as Daniel Grady. The sheriff then took the man and locked him up as there has been a warrant out for him for a number of weeks for wife abandonment. Grady telephoned from Decatur to the sheriff a month since that he would surrender but he failed to come at that time.

Sherman Pledged to the People.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)
The political situation in Illinois is attracting the national attention it deserves. Senator Owen of Oklahoma, the administration Democrat who has entered the campaign for Robins, the Progressive nominee for senator, is becoming a target of general criticism in Democratic newspapers which fail to understand why a Democrat should support the nominee of any other party for any office for which a Democrat is running. It was not through such a division of their own voting strength, runs the pith of comment in all these journals, that Democrats came into power, and as Roger Sullivan has been nominated by the Illinois Democrats for senator, opposing him is not only opposing the party but opposing the president, whose policies, present and future, whatever they may be, Mr. Sullivan is daily pledging himself, in advance, to support.

It is necessary to follow this interesting and candid argument still further. Senator Owen is being asked, and one of our Democratic local contemporaries includes Mr. Bryan in the question, although he is studiously avoiding the Illinois campaign, why a Democrat can support a Progressive when it is realized that the president's policies are not those of the Progressives, and that should Mr. Robins be elected, he could not be depended upon, under the pressure of his Progressive policies, to support the president's policies every time they may need support in the Senate, as Mr. Sullivan can be. Turning this reasoning around, in order that it may be considered on its broader as well as narrower sides, it is seen to be an assertion that the Illinois Progressives do not want, and do not intend to send to the Senate a man so incapable of intelligent representation of changing public interests, and dealing with new issues as they may arise, that he could become, in the Senate, a mere echo of the White House.

This is a true interpretation of Progressive feeling at the present moment, not only in Illinois but everywhere. In Illinois, as elsewhere, Progressives find themselves so disappointed in the results of this administration that they are anxious to make sure of the defeat of the party which enters upon the campaign Saturday in such a fluster and confusion that only congressional candidates are willing to pledge themselves to support whatever new administration with her policies may be devised, are had been in Chicago.

There are so anxious to make the defeat of such branded candidates for Congress, that they not repeat their mistake of the only way for their election by again dividing the strength of opposition. They find in Senator Sherman a senatorial candidate daunted to any man, but one of Danville, the practical progressiveness in the legislation of Illinois, taken place in the day, the grooves of the past, and that the Owen movement, but is now local, not only to fool them, but to track with them, the Democrats who have been intending to straighten out Sherman against the mass of Illinois Progressives will vote in a way to make votes count against that candidate for the Senate who forswears his allegiance to a state and in swearing allegiance to one whose wisdom, in the light of existing conditions, can not be claimed as proved.

SULLIVAN FOSTERS BI-PARTISANSHIP.
"Roger Sullivan is not fought for those principles and instead is a traitor to the principles of the party. I use this word, not as an epithet, not to insult Sullivan, but because he has betrayed those principles. He has stood for the corruption of bi-partisan organization, an organization which resulted in a jackpot legislature in Illinois. Sullivan in the past voted against Alldredge. He voted against Harrison and Dunne as candidates for mayor of Chicago. He voted against Bryan and then later on he organized the armed thugs of Chicago and made the famous train-robbers' convention of Illinois a possibility. Then in order to keep up a face as being a regular Democrat, in 1908 he came out against Bryan but secretly he worked against him."

"I do not know all the history of his relations in Chicago, politically, but Mayor Harrison says that Sullivan was eleven times fought the Democratic nominees there, so that now I am going to follow the example of Roger Sullivan and vote the ticket. I wish he would leave the party for he belongs with the Lorrimer Republicans. The further off he stands from President Wilson the better off will the president be. The senator from Illinois should be a man to be consulted by the president and important things should depend upon his opinion, and Sullivan is not fitted for that post. If the president had listened to Sullivan's advice he would have appointed as assistant United States attorney in Chicago Douglas Patterson, who is under the charge of having improperly tried to influence a member of the Illinois legislature to vote for Lorrimer. What kind of a prosecution of Lorrimer do you think there would have been in the coming term of court if Douglas Patterson had been appointed?"

"Roger Sullivan has established a reputation as a channel through which corporations secure special privileges, and who has ever heard of him fighting against any of the evils of which corporations are sometimes guilty? Did you ever hear of his condemning any of his followers who voted for Lorrimer? Again I want to emphasize the importance of the initiative and referendum. Without it it is impossible to secure a practical corrupt practice act. When the matter was up before the Illinois legislature Sullivan fought against it and Sherman appeared before the committee against it while Raymond Robins lent his strong support."

Robins Called Ideal.
"I consider Raymond Robins an ideal candidate for the senatorship and believe that he will make a faithful ally for President Wilson."

TERMED CHICAGOAN TRAITOR TO THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Address Merely a Reiteration of the Charges General Against Political Methods of Sullivan—Robins Pictured as Ideal for Senatorship.

Senator Owen, democrat, of Oklahoma came to Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon for the express purpose of telling the people here that Roger Sullivan is a traitor to the Democratic party and principles and that Raymond Robins, progressive, is an ideal candidate. The Oklahoma senator was heard by an audience which filled the circuit court room and was applauded in a number of instances. He made no attempt at any oratory whatever but simply devoted himself to an attack upon Sullivan's methods and party record. Senator Owen is of Indian blood and those of his audience yesterday who were friendly to Sullivan declared that the speaker in his bitterness showed something of race characteristics.

Senator Robert Owen and party arrived in Jacksonville on a special train at 2:30 yesterday afternoon and the senator addressed a meeting at the court house. Frank Bode, chairman of the afternoon, introduced Judson King, who is secretary of the National Popular Government League. Mr. King spoke briefly, telling something of the purpose of the league and laying particular stress upon the value of the initiative and referendum as an instrument in the hands of the people for good government.

Then Senator Owen was introduced and without any preliminary remarks whatever began his twenty-minute address. The Oklahoma senator said that the initiative and referendum will if adopted be the greatest possible aid to the people in securing better laws; that Roger Sullivan is a traitor to his party and to Democratic principles and generally corrupt politically, that L. Y. Sherman has been narrow minded in his actions; that Raymond Robins is an ideal candidate for the senatorship. This in brief is a summary of the argument made by the speaker against the candidacy of Mr. Sullivan and in favor of Mr. Robins.

He said in part: "The initiative and referendum would place in the hands of the people a decisive and strong instrument for better government. If the people had their full rights through this legislature they would be no question about Penrose of Pennsylvania and Sullivan of Illinois, twin brothers of corruption, being relegated to the rear as is their desert. The campaign in Illinois is even more important than that in Pennsylvania, and the purpose of all of us is to rid the country of the corruption of bi-partisan politics. I have come to take a part in this contest because I consider it a patriotic duty to help the public and to the Democratic party. I have been a Democrat ever since I entered public life and have fought for those principles for which democracy stands."

SULLIVAN FOSTERS BI-PARTISANSHIP.

Robins Called Ideal.
"I consider Raymond Robins an ideal candidate for the senatorship and believe that he will make a faithful ally for President Wilson."

You must judge men by their acts through a period of years and not by simply a few months, and by this standard Robins shows himself fit and Sullivan that he is unfit. I was told recently by the St. Louis Republic that I was meddling by coming into Illinois to take part in the campaign, but I consider the office of senator a national office and that as a senator elected from Oklahoma I am in reality a senator elected for the whole country at large, and that therefore I am your officer as well as are those men who are elected from within your state. I am taking part in this contest because I do not want Sullivan to come to the senate to get in his work in organizing the reactionaries there.

"I would rather see Sherman in the senate than Sullivan, but the Republican senator has not taken a broad course in the past and I am here to tell you that this contest is between Sullivan and Robins. Consider when you are choosing a man for the senate his fitness for the office, what kind of advisor he will be to the president, and remember the hundreds of crafty ways there are for blocking a legislature, passing undesirable legislation or placing jokers in good legislation. There are a few reactionaries in the Democratic party and a few men who are dishonest, but the great rank and file hopes for the best in legislation and is progressive in the wish to secure to the people their full and complete rights. So I believe that the great rank and file of people will not support Sullivan in his present aspirations."

The Farms of America will be called upon as never before to help feed Europe.

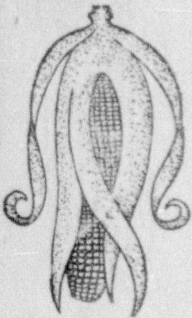

THE DEMAND FOR FARM PRODUCTS will be sure and strong for several years to come. American farms may be pushed to the limit to supply this demand.

PREPARE FOR THE 1915 HARVEST. Careful seed selection, thorough tillage and cultivation and good judgment will bring increased crops. More intensive cultivation, quite as much as increased acreage, will bring farm prosperity.

DIVERSIFY YOUR CROPS. Experience proves that a one-crop country cannot continue permanently prosperous. Raise more live stock. Plant more legumes. Cows, cattle, hogs, poultry, alfalfa, clover and soy beans mean ready money and fat bank accounts as well as more fertile fields.

DON'T SPECULATE on the fluctuations in the prices of farm products or on the other fellow's game. Expand along legitimate lines.

Hart H. Massey is to go this morning to Carrollton to give testimony at the hearing which was set for today of a man charged with picking pockets on the train during the time the Greene County Fair was being held.

Five passengers had their pockets picked, among them being Mr. Massey. From what was learned it appears the victims were on the train when they discovered their loss. As he went to one of the victims just as he was seated and inquired if he had not lost his pocketbook. After a hurried examination the man reported that it was gone. The boy informed him that he had seen a man then in the car put his hand into the pocket and take the purse. The man stepped to the car door and summoned the sheriff who was present and the suspect was arrested.

PASTORS AND DISTRICT STEWARDS HOLD MEETING

Annual Gathering Took Place at Grace Methodist Church. Sessions Prove Profitable and Interesting.

The ministers and district stewards of the Jacksonville M. E. district were held Tuesday at Grace M. E. church with a large attendance. The management of the gathering was under the direction of Supt. F. A. McCarty. The meeting was featured by the presence of Dr. U. G. Leasenby of Crawfordville, Ind., who spoke on the new financial plan.

Morning Session.
The sessions commenced at 9 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Miller, presiding. The topic discussed was "The Revival Campaign." The problem of the churches of the district was discussed by the ministers in a joint meeting held at 10:30, with Rev. J. W. Miller as leader. While this meeting was in progress the district stewards held a session with W. J. Ford of Greenfield as chairman and R. S. Best of Beardstown as secretary. The following committee was appointed to apportion the amounts to be raised for the support of the district superintendent—R. S. Best of Beardstown, L. F. Berger, Mercedosia and H. C. Busby, Jacksonville. Their report was adopted and the amount fixed was the same as that of last year. Rev. F. A. McCarty delivered a very helpful discourse at the close of the sessions of the district stewards on "The mutual relationship between preacher and layman."

Dinner was served in the basement of the church at the noon hour under the auspices of the Ladies of Grace church. Several residents of the city and visitors were present at the dinner. The ministers and their wives and the district stewards were special guests at dinner of Rev. F. A. McCarty. Short addresses were made after the meal by Dr. J. R. Harker, Rev. J. W. Miller, Rev. U. G. Leasenby and avote of thanks was extended Dr. McCarty and wife.

Afternoon Sessions.
Dr. Leasenby was the first speaker of the afternoon on the subject "The New Financial Plan and Who are to Work It." Dr. Leasenby is one of the leading advocates of the new plan and is a most enthusiastic and interesting speaker. His address was of a most helpful character. "Church Loyalty" was the subject of the address of Dr. J. R. Harker. These addresses were followed by a solo from Miss Clara Ranson.

Dr. Leasenby was the principal speaker in the evening session, talking again upon the new financial plan. There was a large audience present.

WAR HAS EFFECT ON FOREIGN ADVERTISING

LONDON NEWSPAPERS INDICATE CONFLICT UPPERMOST IN PUBLIC MIND.

Regular Store Use of Space Has Been Lessened but Special Lines Have Increased—New Lines of Business Have Developed.

London, October 1 (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The advertising columns of the London daily papers tell their own story of the war. If the censor went so far as to block out every other line of information, so long as he left the "ads" intact the reader would still not lack instruction as to what war means to England. He would still find a great deal of pathos and grim humor.

Fears at first entertained by the newspapers and periodicals that advertising might be abandoned on account of the war's effect on business now appears to have been groundless. There have been losses, indeed, in one line, and gains in another, with the net result that there is today, after two full months of the war, seemingly no serious diminution of the amount of space sold at the usual rates for advertising.

The most notable change has been in the character of the advertising. It is distinctly war advertising. Of that sort it is more extensive than has ever been known in the history of British journalism. The greatest space gain is probably in the "small ad" line. Two or more pages, usually the first and last, of the leading morning papers are, as from time immemorial, crowded with fine print announcements with only a bold initial letter to relieve the monotony.

The conspicuous new feature is the "Killed in Action" or the "Roll of Honor" section. Alongside the familiar string of births, deaths, and marriages, it has now become a daily occurrence to find in many of the papers a good part of a column taken up with such announcements as this:

"READ: Killed in action in the Battle of the Aisne; about the 19th Sept., Arthur Beddome Read, Sec. Lieut. Somerset Light Infantry, the dearly-loved son of the late Robert R. Read and Mrs. Read, Avalon, Sutton, Surrey, and grandson of the late Col. R. H. Beddome and Mrs. Beddome, Sispira, Putney."

There is not a column, and hardly an advertisement among the hundreds on the page but what directly or indirectly suggests some phase of the war. The "Personal" columns, as ever, are entirely exempt to those who have shared the secret of communication by this means, but they often flavor of patriotism. When one reads: "Dearest: Am praying for you. Always loyal Love," he may easily imagine it to be some sweetheart's possible vain attempt to get a word to her soldier-lover, she knows not just where. But one needs to exercise no imagination to see the effect of the war in other instances. Taking a personal column haphazard one finds near the top such an appeal as this:

"I want to buy a German helmet. What offers?" There are many suggestions of training such as this: "Will anybody lend a pack of barriers or beagles to a regimental mess to be hunted by the officers until ordered abroad?"

There are those who want to locate wounded relatives, such as this: "If anybody has news of Major A. F. Haig, the King's Own Scottish Borderers, wounded at Le Toureau, August 26th, will they please communicate with—"

"Gentlemen: Idle through the war" appear frequently in the appeals for employment. One such addressing his card particularly to Americans says he would like to take a party of three touring anywhere through Great Britain.

An "advertiser holding post under military authority" asks if "a kindly disposed lady or gentleman will lend him 15 pounds for special family provision. Will repay by instalments of 10 shillings a week." There is such a case as this to reflect the busy days at the War Office.

"Office at War Office long hours desires to let or exchange his house one hour from London." Many young men sign themselves to such appeals as this:

HARDWOOD OUTPUT REDUCED BY WAR

Output in Memphis District Far Below Normal.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 13.—The most significant development in the hardwood situation in the South since the war began in Europe has been the vast curtailment of output effected. Practically all the mills in the Mississippi Valley, comprising the principal hardwood producing territory, were operating on full time at the end of July. Since that time, manufacturing operations have been confined practically entirely to the conversion into lumber of the stocks of logs already on hand. Such progress has been made in curtailment that conservative hardwood lumbermen estimate that the output in the Memphis district is not more than 25 to 30 per cent of normal. By means of curtailing output and by virtue of ability on the part of the lumbermen to secure funds for the financing of their lumber, very little stock has been forced for sale. Demand has not been active at any time since the war began, but the ability of lumber interests to carry their stocks without sacrificing them has made it possible to maintain prices at almost as high a level as that prevailing before the war.

Exports of lumber are almost at a standstill, particularly so far as new business is concerned. Within the past three or four weeks cargoes destined for the United Kingdom have been allowed to go forward, but shipments have not been made to any of the other warring countries because of the extreme risk involved therein. The British government has been a moderate buyer of Southern hardwoods more recently, but demand from other countries is particularly small.

Through the indisposition of timber owners to cut any part of their timber under present conditions, logging it at a complete standstill. While stocks of lumber in the South are not at all excessive, it is said that there is plenty to meet requirements of the trade until such time as conditions materially improve.

John W. Leach of the Mound Road was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

The Pilgrimage

Life is a weary road to travel, and hard upon the feet, if we are bound to snarl and cavil at every one we meet. We ought to bow to strangers passing, and not knock off their ties, for they will answer sass with sass, or give us smiles for smiles. If you are quarrelsome and scrappy, nor prone to gain a friend, you'll find the pilgrimage unhappy and dismal to the end. But if you wear a smile that's winning, a smile eight inches deep, some other chaps who see you grinning, will straightway cease to weep. A smile like yours or mine's contagious; folks seeing it will say, "This life can't be so blamed outrageous, if pilgrims smile that way!" A scowl, alas, is just as catching; afar its influence goes; folks seeing it will soon be hatching another brood of woes. This life's a tune that's full of jangles, a discord, lame and halt, if we go seeking rows and wrangles, and keep on finding fault. But it's an anthem, grand, inspiring, sweet the road inquiring who we can help along.

as the angels' song, if we go down along.

Copyright, 1914 by Walt Mason

"Will any one provide motor bicycle, with pound weekly for camp expense and for wife, to enable me to join the motor corps?" No matter where one may be going abroad, it seems, he believes his departure presents rare opportunities to extend British trade. There are several announcements like this:

"Englishman going to America, would introduce or sell English goods of merit on reasonable terms."

The reader is struck by the number of advertisements in French and Dutch, and now and then one in the strange Russian characters. There is no evidence of German. "In view of the large number of French and Belgian subjects in England," says one newspaper announcement, "we will undertake translation of advertisements from foreign words to English or English to foreign, free of charge."

The "Situation Required" section is always filled to overflowing these days. It contains many pathetic instances of distress. There is no knowing how many of them are genuine. One reads:

"Bright English girl in great distress owing to war. Absolutely at end of resources, and disheartened trying to obtain mere existence. Musical, artistic, well educated; fluent French. Will any lady help?"

There is an unusual number of women desiring to dispose of jewelry and other luxuries—suggesting they are in need of funds. "A lady," reads one advertisement, "wishes to dispose of her fox stole and muff (black). Quite new. This season's style. Cost ten pounds. Accept 50 shillings." And there is a "dog lover" who will part with some prize dogs "for the benefit of the Belgian refugees."

There are firms which advertise as a specialty the business of "finding lost luggage on the continent." There is the random case of a chemist who wants "to work out processes for the manufacturer of products hitherto made only in Germany." There is an agency which makes this appeal to the clergy:

"Sermons supplied every week; new, fresh, simple and drawing lessons from the war."

"A University Man" appeals for a chance to render "patriotic service," and wants "a living wage only." The Anti-Vaccination League stirs up an old controversy by advertising to men joining the territorialists that Lord Haldane when minister of war ruled that vaccination was not compulsory. The column of "Legal Notices" is usually full of formal announcements of changes of names, persons with German sounding names abandoning them permanently for English ones, to the confusion of future genealogists.

Special publications such as illustrated histories of the war, coming out by sections for a few pence—pamphlets on countless subjects such as "How to Help Lord Kitchener" and books on both the serious and lighter phases of international relations are widely advertised. It is surprising to learn how much matter that was written years ago is brought out today as having a bearing on the war.

The big "ads"—many of them covering a whole page—have a particular news element in the fact that they are generally flaunting in big type the "all-British goods" idea. "Mr. Lloyd George truly said," says one of these advertisements, "that this war would be decided by silver bullets." Every German or Austrian article bought in this country means so many silver bullets against us. Every British article purchased so many more of the all-powerful "silver bullets" for us.

Charges circulating in one way or another to the effect that certain firms are of German origin have led to several libel suits. Many have been cleared themselves of the charge by court action with the result that retractions with profuse apologies are not uncommon at advertising rates.

There is no corner of the advertising pages without its martial spirit or its grim bearing upon it. At the foot of one column of "Situation vacant" there appears:

"WANTED: A Coffin Maker used to East End work."

One wonders if this, too, is not prompted by the demands of the war.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The Boston National League Club completed the most sensational record in modern professional baseball by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics in the fourth and final game of the world's series at Fenway Park today by a score of 3 to 1.

Beginning with their rush from last place in the senior league in the middle of July, the Braves have broken traditions and records in the national sport with speed and abandon during the last three months. They emerged late this afternoon champions of the universe, leaving a trail of startling surprises and upsets in their wake which will be hard to duplicate in years to come.

Last, and far from the least of their accomplishments was the overthrow in four consecutive games of the world famous baseball machine of Connie Mack, with its hundred thousand dollar infield, home run heroes and corps of skillfully blended veteran and youthful pitching stars. Tonight the new champions gathered under the management of George Stallings are celebrating their ascent to the championship throne, while the wreck of the Athletic baseball juggernaut is bound for the home of William Penn, stunned and stupified by the unlooked for calamity which, temporarily, at least, racked it to the smallest cog.

Mackmen Offer No Excuses.
To the victors belong the spoils and credit and unexpected as was the crushing defeat, the Mackmen took it in sportsmanlike spirit, praising the winners and offering no excuses for their failure to hold their national league rivals in check. In fact, none are available, for the Bostonians outplayed and outgamed their more experienced opponents in every department of play. The best that could be said of the Athletics by their warmest admirers was that the team neither collectively nor as individuals appeared to get going in the form shown in previous world's series.

To crush completely and decisively the great combination which has represented Philadelphia in the American league in recent years is honor enough for any rival baseball club, but the Braves in their youthful ardor and speed did even better, for they established a new world's series record by winning in succession the four games necessary to clinch the title.

Not since the National commission assumed charge of these annual interleague contests in 1905, has this feat been achieved until today. Several clubs have won four out of five games and in the early days of the Temple Cup and National League vs American Association straight victories were chronicled. In 1884 Providence defeated the Metropolitans, three straight. In 1894, the New York club defeated Baltimore in four games for the Temple Cup and two years later Baltimore won four consecutive victories from Cleveland and there the simile ends.

Braves Are First to Score.
The Athletics fought doggedly until the end and even late in the game today their adherents who had made them two to one favorites in the wagering before the opening contest, confidently believed they would start a batting rally that would bring about at least a momentary check in the Braves' headlong run, but the Mackmen's famous punch appeared to be gone. The new champions were first to score and except for half an inning when the score was tied, held the lead until the end.

To Captain Johnny Evers fell the honor of scoring the initial run of the final game of the 1914 series. He opened the fourth session by working Shawkey for a pass; advanced to second on Connolly's infield out and moved to third on Whitted's single and scored on Schmidt's infield out.

Score by innings:
Philadelphia . . . 000 010 000—1
Boston . . . 000 120 003—3

Two base hits—Walsh, Shawkey, Moran. Hits—Off Shawkey, 4 in 5 innings; off Pennock, 2 in 3 innings. Stolen bases—Whitted, Double plays—Gowdy and Evers. Left on bases—Philadelphia 4; Boston 5. First base on balls—Off Shawkey, 2; Pennock, 2; Rudolph, 1. Struck out—By Pennock, 3; Rudolph, 7. Passed ball—Schang. Wild pitch—Rudolph. Time, 1:49. Umpires—At plate, Byron; bases, Hildebrand; left field, Klem; right field, Dineen.

In the fifth inning when Barry singled, took second on Schang's out and scored on Shawkey's double. Nothing daunted the Braves who came right back in their half of the same inning and won the game with two additional runs, both made after two were out. Rudolph singled to center, took third on Moran's double to left and both came home when Evers singled over second. The Athletics appeared to lose heart and never seriously threatened in the remaining sessions at bat.

Owners Divide Small Sum.
Because of the shortness of the series the club owners and National commission divide a smaller sum than in any world's series since 1911. The attendance at today's game was 34,363 and the receipts $62,653. The club owners received $33,832.62; the club owners $22,555.08 and the National Commission $6,265.30.

Total attendance for the series was 111,000; receipts $225,739; players' share $121,900.94; each club's share $40,632.58 and the National commission's proportion $22,537.

As the winners, the Boston players received sixty per cent of $121,900.94 or $73,140.56 while the Athletics, as losers, profit to the extent of $48,786.36. Of the Boston club, twenty-six players are eligible to the share in the prize money, giving each man $2,813.10, should the money be divided equally. Of the Athletics, twenty-four players are eligible to divide the loser's end, which would give each Mackman $2,031.68 on a share and share alike basis. The players of neither club have, as yet, notified the National commission just how the money will be divided. The players receive less money than has fallen to their lot since the series of 1910. Each of the four umpires receives $1,000, the money coming from the National commission's percentage of the profits.

Ties Interleague Honors.
The world's series of 1914 was the tenth between the pennant winners of the two major leagues since the National commission, the highest court of baseball, took charge of the annual national championship battle in 1905. Today's victory of the Braves brings out a tie for interleague honors, since American league and National league clubs each have won five championship pennants. The American league victories and the clubs that won them are as follows:

1906—Chicago.
1910—Philadelphia.
1911—Philadelphia.
1912—Boston.
1913—Philadelphia.
The National league triumphs won were:
1905—New York.
1907—Chicago.
1908—Chicago.
1909—Pittsburgh.
1912—Boston.
Connie Mack, the Athletic's leader, is the only manager who has won three world's championships and he appears to have stumbled over the mystic fourth just as managers McGraw, Jennings, Chance and Mack have all failed to win four league pennants in a row.

Final Game Feast Exciting.
The final game was the least exciting of the series. There were few brilliant fielding features that are not seen in games during the league season. Maranville made a great stop and throw on a hard hit ball by Collins and Mann brought cheers on a fine running catch in the outfield.

The batting also was of the ordinary kind. Whitted got 2 singles, Moran made a double and Evers, Schmidt and Rudolph each got a base hit. Seven of the ten men in the game for the former world's champions, made a hit. It is their best offensive when in the series. Those failing to connect were Murphy, Schang and Pennock. The latter was at bat only once. The hits made by Walsh and Shawkey were two base drives.

Rudolph struck out seven men, his victims being Oldring, Collins, Walsh, Barry, Shawkey and Schang, the latter twice.

There were only three strike outs against Boston—Evers, Schmidt and Gowdy, falling victims to Pennock's fast curves. Shawkey gave two bases on balls in the five innings he pitched and Pennock also gave two. Rudolph gave one base on balls and made one wild pitch.

The new champions excelled the Athletics in hitting, but not in fielding. Boston made a total of 16 runs in the four games, 33 hits for a total of 56 bases and four errors. The Athletics gathered together only six runs, made 22 hits for a total of 31 bases and three errors. Boston played one errorless game and the Athletics two, today's contest was the first game in the last four world's series in which both teams played without error.

Evers made seven singles in the series. Gowdy had six hits for a total of 14 bases. Schmidt made five hits. Baker made four hits in the four games, Murphy three, Collins three, Schang two, McInnis two and Strunk two.

Thousands Crowd to Bench.
Despite the rather mediocre play of the final game, the enthusiasm of the thousands of spectators furnished a thrilling climax when the last Athletic was put out and championship honors were assured for the Braves. Cheering throngs piled out of the stands and bleachers and rushed across the field to the Boston bench, but the Mackmen were first to the dugout and were shaking hands and congratulating their late opponents before the first of the fans reached the scene. Once the crowd gathered in force the police had difficulty in holding it in check. Gowdy, Maranville, Captain Evers and other heroes of the series were lifted on the fan's shoulders while a roar of applause went up that could be heard on Boston Commons.

The Royal Rooters brigade formed and with the band and its Indian clad leaders at the head, marched around the field cheering the empty bench where but a few minutes before the Mackmen had conferred on the last bit of baseball strategy and then joined the thousands paying homage to the Braves.

Mayor Curley, President Gaffney and Manager Stallings all made short speeches in response to the cheers of the fans and it was almost dusk before the last celebrator ceased to whoop and snake dance around the bases. Weather conditions for the closing game were not good for fast ball playing as was the preceding contest. The temperature had taken a sharp drop over night and players and fans awoke to find the fog of autumn in the air and conditions more suitable for football than baseball. Heavy gray-white clouds blocked out huge portions of the blue sky and the sun, when it broke through, failed to warm the atmosphere to any extent. A stiff northwest wind whipped flags and pennants about the poles and stands and made heavy wraps, sweaters and even steam rugs almost a necessity, first time since the series began.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 13.—The New York Nationals today defeated the New York Americans by a score of 4 to 1, taking the city series four games to one. The Giants scored in the fourth on Doyle's double, a sacrifice by Burns and an error by Peckinpaugh. Singles by Demaree and Burns, Demaree's sacrifice hit, Doyle's sacrifice fly, a pass to Snodgrass, a double steal by Snodgrass and Burns and two errors by Nunamaker gave the Giants three runs in the sixth. The Yankees scored their lone run in the second when Cree doubled and came all the way home on a wild throw by Meyers. The game was played in an hour and eight minutes. The score:

American Leaguers Capture Game in Fifth Inning When Their Opponents Go to Pieces—Giants Win New York City Series.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The Chicago American League team won the local national league representatives for the championship of Chicago today when they won 5 to 3. The winning of the club is now three and three.

The American leaguers won out in the fifth inning when the National league club went to pieces. After two men had been retired, Weaver missed a third strike. Bresnahan also missed the ball and it went for a passed ball and Weaver made first base easily. Weaver then stole second. Blackburn followed with a sharp single to Demick and Weaver pulled up at third. Blackburn immediately stole second. Collins was purposely passed, tilting the bases. Fournier singled to right and Weaver scored. The Nationals threw the ball here and there and in the excitement Zimmerman threw wild to the plate and Blackburn scored. Collins and Fournier moved up to third and second respectively. Roth followed with a single to deep right and Collins and Fournier scored. Before this inning Vaughn had allowed his opponents only one hit, a double by Demmitt in the second. A base on balls to Schalk followed and when a double steal was tried Vaughn threw wild to Zimmerman and Demmitt scored the first run of the game. In the National's lucky seventh two runs counted. Vaughn beat out an infield hit and Johnson ran for him. After the next two men had been retired Saier made the first home run of the series by knocking the ball to the scoreboard in right field. The ninth inning brought forth a rally by the Nationals but they scored only once. Kneisely batted for Zabel and drew a base on balls. Leach followed and was safe on Blackburn's fumble of his grounder. Good sent a short rounder down the first base line. Benz got the ball and targeted Good. Benz and Good collided and Good's knee connected with Benz's head and the American league pitcher collapsed on the first base line. Benz was unsteady when he recovered and Manager Callahan took him out and finished the game with Cicotte.

YOU CAN'T BRUSH OR WASH OUT DANDRUFF

The Simplest and Quickest Way is To Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

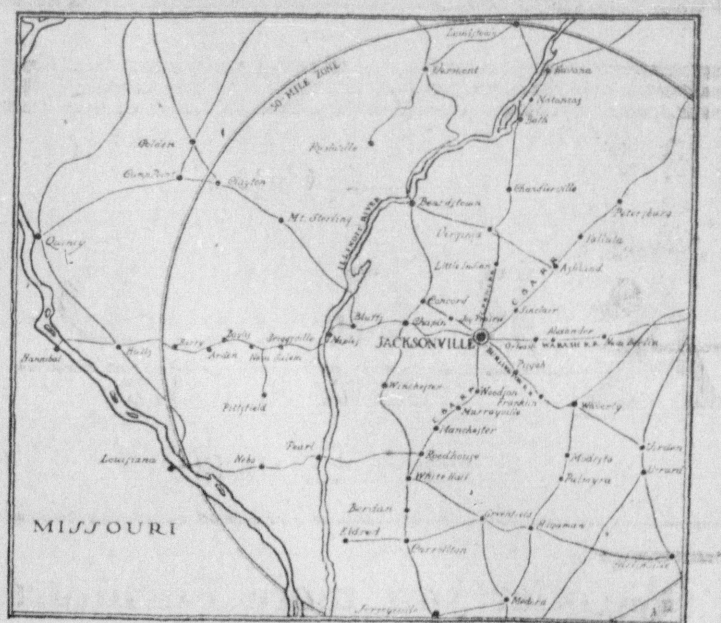

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and every-one notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

JOHN J. REEVE

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE OF MORGAN COUNTY

(Jacksonville Journal Editorial, October 9.)
John J. Reeve was born and reared on a farm east of Jacksonville, and has lived in the county substantially all of his life, his ancestors having been among the earliest settlers in the county. He began the active practice of law in 1891, in Jacksonville with Morrison & Whitlock; served as City Attorney of Jacksonville from 1895 to 1899, and in 1899 formed a partnership with the late Isaac L. Morrison and Thomas Worthington, under the firm name of Morrison, Worthington & Reeve. This partnership continued until the death of Mr. Morrison in 1901, after which the firm name was Worthington & Reeve until 1912, when Mr. Hugh Green became a member of the firm.
Mr. Reeve's practice has brought him into one side or the other of most of the important litigation in this county, and of as much in adjoining counties.
He is now president of the Morgan County Bar Association, is a member of Grace M. E. church, Grand Master at Arms of the Order of Knights of Pythias. He is also a member of the I. O. O. F., M. W. A., Elks, Masons, including the Order of Knight Templar, a member of the Order of Red Men and of the Court of Honor.
Aside from criminal business, the County Court is now of far greater importance to the people of the county than the Circuit Court, as it handles a much greater volume of business affecting the most intimate business and domestic relations of the people. In all this class of business Mr. Reeve has had a wide experience, including such cases as the settlement of estates, special assessment and drainage matters, criminal cases, the management of the estates of minors and insane persons, the handling of matters relating to taxation, and such other subjects as necessarily come before the county court. His experience in all this class of business will be of great value to the people of the county, if he is elected county judge, and will save to them a large amount both in time and money. He already knows how to despatch the business of the court and do it promptly. His experience, training and character eminently fit him for the office of County Judge and it is to the interest of the people that a person with these qualifications should be elected to that important office.

MARKET LETTERS

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Oct. 12, 1914.—Oliver S. Green, with Walter Brock, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, reports the estimated receipts for Monday October 12th, 1914, 22,000 cattle 24,000 hogs and 45,000 sheep, and 4,000 of the receipts of cattle were western rangers. The market was very dull and slow and irregularly lower, and many cattle unsold at a late hour. Some will be carried over having no bids. Big heavy cattle are again unpopular. There was a liberal supply of the $8.50 to $9.50 stock in run. Westerns sold strong. Butcher she stock generally steady with the close of last week. Native grass cattle were 10 to 15 lower under last Wednesday. Canners held about steady. Packers received about 25 to 50 lower. There was a liberal supply of stockers and feeders and they sold generally at a 25c decline.

Good hogs sold 10c below Saturday, and few sales above 8.25. Some butchers fully 15 lower. The price range is much narrower than recently. Heavy and mixed packing are little changed. About 3500 held over. Good heavy packing 7.30 and weight mixed packing 7.30 and weight mixed packing 7.50. Pigs slower. Lambs and sheep stronger and 15 higher with an active market. The eastern markets were lower which was a handicap to the selling side. Best range lambs reached 7.90. Montana ewes 6c. Yearlings 6.50.

Only a few of the prime cattle especially of the light and handy weights above the dull and slumpy market and views of the decline were an uncertain problem. Practically all of the 8.50 to 9.50 stock about $1 lower than three weeks ago and it took more peddling to clear anything except the prime light and handy weights. The $1 mark has been taken off. One drove of cattle, 29 in number averaging 1570 lbs. made 10.85. Wisconsin grassers made 8.8, that were 8.25 and 8.40 two weeks ago. No class of the buyers seemed anxious for cattle and the supply was more than enough to fill the demand. The yearling class of steers and heifers were flat favorites and to sell at 9.50 and above but little change, and a number of sales were made at 9.90 up to 10.25, with a top of 10.35. The grassy and heavy fat weights selling below that were slow sellers and sheer fully as much decline as in other classes of cattle excepting the prime ones. Many yearlings especially in 9c and below class slow sellers.

Best yearling from 1920 lbs. to 1034 lbs. at 10.35. Some twenty car loads at 10.25 different sorts to 10.60 and a long list of good cattle that were in 75c to $1 a hundred higher class three weeks ago, sold at 9.25 to 10.00, and only a few between that and the 10.00 and 10.20 class. Many fairly good cattle weighing 1200 lbs., 8.25 to 9.25, and a few odd cattle from North Dakota weighing about 1398 reached 9.75, with some other choice westerns at 9.65 and the fairly good list at 7.35 to 7.75. Fat cows sold at 5.10 to 5.75. Canners and cutters 3.50 to 5c. Heifers 5.40 to 9.60. Bulls 4.85 to 7.75 with the odd plain weight to prime yearlings of light weight at 8c. The decline of 25c was most on stockers and feeders and the good to choice kind were 10 to 15 lower. Inferior stockers to good feeders 3.25 to 7.40. Good to choice light to good weights 7.50 to 7.85, with selected 1067 to 1143 lb. cattle at 8c that were in the 8.25 class a little time ago. 3400 lb. cattle at 6.90. Stock and feeding heifers 4.80 to 6.75.

Hog Market.
Mixed packing grades 7.30 to 7.60. Mediums and butchers 7.65 to 7.90. Heavy packing 7.00 to 7.35. Rough heavy through outs 6.50 to 7c. Light weights 7.80 to 8.15. Selected packing and shipping 7.40 to 8.40. Pigs and rough 2.00 to 7.75.

The sheep market was strong to 10 higher than the close of last week in sympathy with the lower markets in the east. Best range lambs 7.90. City butchers paid 7.90 to 7.95. Best natives the last. A large number of feeding lambs reached 9.75. Montana ewes touched 6c. Fat yearlings 6.50 and range ewes 5.45. Native ewes 3.75 to 5.25. Native lambs 7.95, breeding ewes native 5.50 to 6.25. Buck 4 to 4.25. Montana feeding lambs 6.10 to 7.25, with a drove 319 Idaho average 16 lbs. at 7.30. Goats 7.75 to 5.50, the last for kids and yearlings. Native yearling ewes 6.25 to 6.50. Native wethers 5.50 to 6c. Montana feeding ewes 4.25 to 4.50. Wyoming lambs 7.80 to 7.90. Montana feeding wethers 4.75 to 5.25. Montana yearling ewes 6.50. Feeding yearlings 6.25. —Oliver S. Green.

LAWRENCE V. SHERMAN
U. S. Senator from Illinois.

(From Speech by Senator Sherman in U. S. Senate.)

"The Republican party is too vitally interwoven with the fortunes and destinies of the American people to be destroyed by a single defeat or a series of defeats. Its record is the most illustrious in the field of American politics. Its legislation and its administrations have been the most potential for good and the most progressive since constitutional government began on this continent. It can not be hoped by those once or yet of the Republican household who have raised their hand to destroy that they can succeed. They can reform, quicken, and make more efficient agencies for good within the party structure. To go beyond means many years of weary defeat, of delayed purposes, of hindered progress, of continued minority rule of the Democratic party, and ultimate failure. Party life, like government, reorganizes, reforms, readjusts itself and its instrument of service to new ends and new issues born of changing time.

Republicans who are Progressives, or Progressives who are Republicans, need not spend time in fruitless controversy about whether the division of the 1912 election will or will not destroy the Republican party. What both want is results. Can we produce them by separating and electing Democrats? It will be useless to discuss whether separation will create a third party which will eventually become a victorious one. Politics, like history, repeats itself. The Democratic party met its great division and disaster in 1860. It, too, is an ancient party.

"The Democratic party, however, survived the cataclysm and is today in this Senate, the House of Representatives, and the administration, the same Democratic party as in 1860 and prior years, save that it has disowned and repudiated disunion and slavery. The party organization, its spirit and party name, survived a series of defeats and a mighty rebellion. Is not this lesson of party vitality and solidarity instructive to those who propose to destroy the Republican party? Those who seek to lay fratricidal hands on the party life ought to reflect that its great organic principles have not materially varied since the days when Lincoln inspired it with purpose and a long line of Republican presidents has illuminated its path with splendid achievements. Such a party with vital principles of government as its basis and a capacity for future good is not destined to perish by a single defeat or a series of defeats. Political history does not justify such a prediction nor present issues or conditions warrant such an assertion."

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

EXPORTS OFFSET SUPPLY INCREASE

Large Quantity of Flour is Bought for Export, in Addition to Purchases of Wheat

WET WEATHER STRENGTHENS CORN

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Liberal export sales of wheat, especially at Kansas City, acted as more than an offset today for a decided increase shown by the United States visible supply. Accordingly, the market finished steady at 1/2c net advance. Corn closed 4 1/2c up, oats with a gain of a shade to 3/4c and provisions varying from 2 1/2c dearth to a rise of 12 1/2c.

In addition to round lots of wheat that were disposed of at Kansas City to European buyers, 25,000 barrels of flour were purchased there for shipment across the Atlantic. Minneapolis also reported flour sales to Europe and there were advices of exporters buying wheat at Duluth. Bullish sentiment was given further impetus as a result of news that seeding operations abroad had made little progress and that the remarkable falling off in receipts at Winnipeg continued with farmers' deliveries very small in Minneapolis and in the Dakotas.

Wet weather, threatening damage and likely to interfere with the crop movement, gave temporary strength to the price of corn. On the advance, however, pit traders turned to the selling side and wiped out most of the gains. Oats averaged higher, influenced chiefly by an active shipping demand. Exporters took 500,000 bushels.

NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

In addition to the books which go into circulation this week, a valuable reference set, the New and Revised Edition of the Century Dictionary, Cyclopaedia and Atlas, has been placed on the shelves of the reading room.

In the dictionary proper the great body of changes and additions naturally are in the special sciences and technology, but all subjects recording growth have been scrutinized by men of authority and their recommended changes made.

The Cyclopaedia of Names has been revised and brought down to September, 1911 by the addition of a thousand new entries, making it the best single volume biographical dictionary now in print.—A. L. A. Bkl.

Music.

Singleton—"Guide to Modern Opera." Describes clearly and with abundant detail the music and plots of twenty-six present-day operas, giving something of their history and extracts from the verdicts of well known musical critics. It deals mostly with the latest works of the new school of composers but includes some of their older works, not in her Guide to the Opera. None of the standard "stories of opera" contain so much late material as this volume.—A. L. A. Bkl.

Sonneck—"The Star-spangled Banner." A history of the words and music. Issued by the government.

Mathematics.

Cracknell—Practical Mathematics.

Raub—Complete Arithmetic.

Art.

Cortissoz—"Art and Common Sense." Interesting, often pungent and always readable comments on a variety of subjects including: The magic of mere paint; Contemporary European painting; Whistler; Sargent; Spanish art; Four leaders in American architecture, and others.—A. L. A. Bkl.

"In advocating the use of common sense in the study of art, I am only urging the reader to keep his head and his sense of humor, to look at a work of art in a natural human way with an open mind. Let prejudice and pedantry go hang. Beauty is all. And is it not the enjoyment of beauty we are all driving at?"—Pref.

"owler—"Oil Paintings." A practical little book on methods. Gift.

Language.

Thomas—Practical German Grammar.

Webster—Composition and Literature.

Real Fiction.

Atherton—"Perch of the Devil." "Story of two women and one man, a mining genius in Butte, Montana, who is really worth the toll they expend on him. The women are cleverly contrasted, the scenes are vulgar often and melodramatic but forceful and convincing and one's sympathy is with the wife who wins.

Interesting to people who can read to be entertained with feeling that they must approve or agree with the philosophy of life expressed."

A. L. A. Bkl.

Buckrose—"Gay morning." A nice simple tale of a family who inherit enough money to realize the dream of the father's heart, an estate which he has wanted since boyhood. Amusing situations and complications.

Gerould—"Vain Oblations." Seven short stories.

Hall—"Henry of Navarre." Of especial interest to Jacksonville people because written by Mr. Robert Hockenull's son-in-law.

Phillips—"Faith Tresilion." "A story of the Cornish coast just before Waterloo. The heroine is both brave and clever, the daughter and sister of smugglers and her lover is the customs official." A swinging story of the early nineteenth century.

LITERBERRY.

S. H. Crum and wife and M. M. Crum and wife attended the Springfield Baptist association which was held at New Berlin last Wednesday and Thursday. They report a profitable meeting, and a representation of twenty-seven churches.

J. M. Black of "Wildwood", and Mrs. M. J. Self of Jacksonville were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Liter at Orchard Place last week.

The Misses Bertha and Marie Mason of Maple View were visitors at the Scribner home Sunday.

S. H. Crum, the superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school, has appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. W. E. Murray, Mrs. D. K. McCarty and M. M. Crum to look after the interests of the school toward the loading of the Christmas ship for the unfortunate children of war devastated Europe. The committee has called a meeting for Friday afternoon at the Baptist church, where all who are interested are invited to meet and make arrangements for sending the presents.

Grandma Henderson is having her residence painted in the latest style.

The Misses Katie Campbell and Lucia Decker of Jacksonville came out on the eight o'clock train and attended church at the Christian church Sunday.

A. C. Acken of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a traveling salesman for the mercantile house of Charles Williams & company, is visiting for a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Scribner on Broadway. Mr. Acken is a nephew of Mr. Scribner.

The Misses Mary and Lena Hale of Grace Chapel neighborhood, drove to Literberry Sunday evening to meet their father on the nine o'clock train as he came from Chandlerville, where he preached on Saturday and Sunday.

Little Miss Helen Young spent Sunday afternoon at Sunshine cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest McLaughlin, a newly married couple from Plainville, will visit relatives in our town this week, the groom being a nephew of Mrs. Jesse Liter and Mr. Robert Beavers.

The revival at the Christian church is doing well. Rev. Fife gives excellent satisfaction with his sermons and a good meeting is expected.

Rev. W. H. Dickman filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church on Sunday morning, preaching a good sermon to a good house; he did not preach in the evening, on account of the revival at the Christian church.

will add 50 to 100 per cent to your corn. In order to prove this claim, and on account of our failures with pure shelled corn, as it gave our stock acute indigestion, we will go anywhere and feed a car-load or more, on conditions that five or more prominent cattle feeders will obligate themselves to buy one when good results are proven. We also guarantee to feed the same amount of hogs on the broth drawn from the corn made into a slop for them. Yours for producing more beef and pork.

WOODS ACCOUNTS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION*M. F. DUNLAP SAYS NO SHORT-

Statement Made on Basis of Audit
Nearly Complete—Money All
Handled by Chief Clerk Who is Under Surety Company Bond—
Woods Has Recently Been Suffering from Nervousness—New Secretary Will Keep Deposits Here.

M. F. Dunlap, who was summoned to Springfield because of the suicide of Harry Woods, secretary of state, returned to Jacksonville last night. Mr. Dunlap states that the audit of the late secretary's books, has been practically completed, and that there will be no deficit. It is therefore certain that it was not because of irregularities in the conduct of his office, that Mr. Woods took his own life. Nothing has been found either to justify the statement made in some papers subsequent to his death, that he had been speculating heavily on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chief Clerk Handles Money.
As Mr. Dunlap was the principal surety on the bond of the late secretary, public interest had naturally attached his name somewhat to the present situation. Mr. Dunlap stated last night, that it is not only true that there is no shortage in the accounts of the secretary but that it is also true, that if there had been a shortage the matter would have been protected in other ways than by the secretary's bondsmen. All of the moneys received in the office of the secretary of state, are handled direct by the chief clerk in the office and not by the secretary. The chief clerk originally appointed by secretary Woods, was the choice of Mr. Dunlap, and this chief clerk supplied an ample bond from a bonding company to protect the secretary and his bondsmen. Subsequently the chief clerk who was first chosen for the position was transferred to the office of state auditor and Frederick Burgstesser was appointed to the chief clerkship in the secretary's office and gave a surety bond. His appointment was also made with the consent of Mr. Dunlap.

Will Retain Deposits.
While in Springfield Tuesday, Mr. Dunlap was in consultation with the governor, the state auditor and the newly appointed secretary, Mr. Stevenson, and all of them affirmed the opinion already given, based upon an audit which is practically complete, that the secretary's accounts are in good shape. It is also a matter of interest that Mr. Dunlap yesterday completed arrangements with Mr. Stevenson, the incoming secretary, to receive the deposits from the secretary's office, as in the past.

Asked about the whole affair last night, Mr. Dunlap said "I was in Chicago, Monday and when I first heard of the suicide deeply regretted it because of my friendship for Mr. Woods, but had no thought of any irregularity in the office, because I had seen Mr. Woods only a few days before and had checked over his accounts. Soon after receiving my first information of the suicide, there came various inquiries from newspapers and then I read in some extras, which the newsmen were crying on the streets that Secretary Woods had been speculating on the Board of Trade, and that he was short in his accounts $400,000. I knew that this report could not be true, in the first place, because the total business for the last three months was about $127,000, and for the added reason that I was in close touch with the account. However, I called up the chief clerk in the office and told him about the newspaper reports and asked for information. Mr. Burgstesser informed me that everything in reference to the office account was in good shape. He said there might be some minor discrepancies, but that no shortage would be found, and the audit thus far bears out his statement.

Story of "Hot Words" Unfolded.
The system of bookkeeping used in the office is such that there could not be a shortage unless it was through the connivance of the secretary and his chief clerk. There was no foundation at all for the story that when I was recently in the office of Secretary Woods we had some hot words. I was in his office and went over his accounts, finding everything in satisfactory shape and our interview was of the most friendly kind. The reports sent out also that I had telegraphed to Auditor Brady that I would be at Springfield ready to turn over the funds, was also without foundation. The auditor told me, also, that the public statement that he had made a demand upon the secretary for his quarterly report and to turn over the moneys in his hands, was also absolutely untrue. "The day I visited Mr. Woods I noticed that he was not feeling well and commented upon the fact and he told me that he had been unable to sleep recently and felt nervous and worn out. I expressed the hope that he might get away from work long enough to get straightened out and to sleeping regularly. I do not think that Mr. Woods spent any very large sum upon his campaign for the senatorship, for he was not prodigal in his expenditures and he was not at all in straitened circumstances. During his campaign he borrowed $3500 from us and at one other time he had made a loan, but in each case he gave bonds as collateral security and paid off the loans promptly at his own pleasure. I do not think that he was a wealthy man but he was probably worth $25,000 to $40,000.

Woods a Good Loser.
Mr. Woods was confident that he would win the nomination for the senatorship, but seemed to take his defeat with good feeling and in talking about it said that he was well satisfied with the results, that he had been opposed by Mr. Sullivan, but now that he was for him, I know that he recently sent to the state democratic committee a substantial check and that he expressed a willingness to go into any part of the state for campaign work, if it was thought that he could be of any service. Mr. Woods was a man of very excitable temperament and he had undoubtedly recently been in a very nervous state, probably from the strenuous days of his campaign.

"While he was somewhat erratic he was nevertheless a great worker and actively interested in the conduct of his office and introduced into the management a number of reforms. He was a man of strong likes and dislikes and of great loyalty to his friends."

LEWIS ABANDONS APPEAL.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis, through counsel, abandoned in the supreme court today the appeal he had taken from a decision of the supreme court of Washington that he must recognize the joint interest of Edith Phillips as her mother's heir, in a tract of land Senator Lewis bought in 1890. Senator Lewis has contended the father had a right to sell the entire title to the land, which was entered under the homestead law while the mother was living.

TWO MILLION GALLON PUMP FOR NORTH SIDE WELLS

Added Equipment Will Be of Great Benefit in General Water Service—Stand Pipe Can Soon Be Filled Regularly And Satisfactory Pressure All Over City Will Result.

While not much has been said about the matter during recent days, various very important improvements are in progress at the north pumping station belonging to the city. Recently a new centrifugal pump of two million gallons daily capacity was received and the foundation work for its installation has already been finished. Some time ago the council made an agreement whereby the pump purchased several years ago for use at the plant was traded in on the new equipment. The old pump had a rating of a million and a half gallons but the impellers were cut down and this had the effect of also greatly reducing the pump capacity.

The new pump gives the city one with a capacity of two million gallons and one with a capacity of one million gallons, and thus puts the north side plant in condition to readily furnish the entire city supply. It has been possible with the one million gallon pump to meet the city's needs in very large degree but it was a strain on the machinery and as the pump practically furnished nothing in excess of the day time supply during the heated term it was not possible to fill the reservoir and standpipe at night.

As soon as the new pump is installed it will be possible to pump directly into the standpipe and to keep it constantly filled. The overflow will be taken care of in the reservoir, and there should be no difficulty in having both the reservoir and the standpipe filled practically all the time. When the reservoir is filled within a few inches of the high water mark it provides pressure practically all over the city. There are, however, a few residences in the vicinity of the reservoir that are without sufficient pressure from the reservoir only, but the troubles of these citizens will be remedied when the standpipe can be steadily used.

Just now it is impossible to keep the standpipe filled from the north side plant and as practically all the city has sufficient pressure except the property holders mentioned, Commissioner Brennan has thought it better not to pump from the old pumping station in order to fill the standpipe and get the pressure needed for the west end property holders mentioned. This could readily be done as water occasioned by the recent rains is now running over the dam at the old station, but the effect of pumping from that source would be to muddy the general supply and Mr. Brennan has felt that it is serving the interests of the greater number not to mix the water from the two sources.

Earlier in the month on account of a break-down it was necessary to pump some water from the south side plant, but as a matter of fact the pumps there have worked only a total of fourteen hours during the thirteen days of October. The plan of operation is to use the large new pump as soon as installation work is completed in order to have the million gallon pump, which has been doing service during recent months, for reserve purposes.

The new boiler which was installed several weeks since is practically ready for use and fire will be built beneath it some time soon. This means that the city will have ample power for using both pumps during the daytime if occasion arises, and in fact, ample power for using both pumps and furnishing current for lighting at night in event this course at any time is necessary. It will now be only a short time until the pump equipment is fully installed and in working order, and as previously mentioned, the new boiler will be in operation, and when this date arrives Jacksonville will have a re-equipped electrical pumping station and a re-equipped municipal lighting plant of which the city may well be proud. This does not mean that there will not be additional requirements, for of necessity the buildings which house the improvements at both plants are of cheap construction and it is also true that new wiring is needed in the light department to bring it up to the highest efficiency, and that a larger main from the north side wells is desirable, but with the means at their disposal the city council members have certainly accomplished some very great improvements during recent months.

CONCORD INCORPORATION IS DECLARED LEGAL

Judge Jones Gave Opinion in Matter Tuesday When He Overruled a Demurrer in Pending Case—Various Docket Entries.

Considerable time was occupied by Judge Jones in the circuit court Tuesday in listening to argument on the demurrer filed in the Concord incorporation case. The title of this case is: The People vs. W. H. Williamson et al, quo warranto. Judge Jones indicated that he will overrule the demurrer which was filed on behalf of the corporation. After the court order is entered to-day an appeal may be taken or it is possible that the decision will be allowed to stand without any further litigation.

It will be remembered that an election was held some time since in Concord on the question of incorporation. It subsequently developed that a provision in the law requires that when such a question is to be submitted to the voters that on the same ballot the question of adopting the commission form of government should also be voted upon and this second question was omitted from the ballot prepared for the election mentioned. When this matter was brought to the attention of the county court, judge declared the election invalid and ordered another election held. These facts were set forth in the demurrer which was argued yesterday. Judge Jones in summing the matter up, said that the order of the court in declaring the election invalid would have no special effect for if the election was not properly held that the very fact of irregularity invalidated it.

The court said that there were probably some irregularities in the form of notice prepared for the second election but that in general respects that the law was carried out. He commented upon the fact that in the first election there was a goodly representation of the voters of the village both men and women who expressed their wishes and that the same was true in the second election, although the number was possibly not quite as large as at the first election. The court stated that there were probably a good many valid technical objections which might be urged upon the court to declare the second election improperly held but he stated further that in his opinion larger latitude was given in cases of this than in some others.

The court expressed the view that the supreme court has stated in one of its opinions handed down that the same strictness should not apply in the incorporation of villages as in some other matters. This is probably true, Judge Jones said, because it often happens that the citizens themselves take up the matter of incorporation and see it through court on their own account, largely without special legal counsel. The judge said that he would therefore hold that the second election was legal and that he therefore overruled the demurrer and it was agreed among the attorney that further entries may be made today, when it is possible that an appeal may be asked, although those opposing the incorporation may decide to let the matter rest as it now stands. The village trustees are represented in the proceeding by J. P. Lippincott and Judge M. T. Layman, and the complainants by Worthington, Reeve & Green and Kirby, Wilson & Brockhouse.

COUNCIL HELD BRIEF SESSION

The city council held a session Tuesday morning which was brief indeed. After Mayor Davis called the session to order the clerk called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mr. Engel was the only commissioner who had anything to report whatever and he simply asked for further time with reference to recommendation for purchasing an automobile to be used in the police department. There was no other business and an adjournment was taken after the council had been in session only three or four minutes. The fact that the council chamber was very cold probably had something to do with shortening up the session. On account of some change being made in the boiler at the light plant heat was turned off for the day.

Our showing of medium priced suits and coats is now complete and very attractive. See the big window display at $12.50, $16.50 and $18.50 for both suits and coats.
